Congratulations Symphonic Band 20-21! (For planning purposes, probably TB2 this year.)

Due to reconfiguring the band room for maximum health safety, this fall there can be no more than 44 in a class. Therefore, instead of the usual 65ish students for Symphonic, 44 were selected. The next class just under Symphonic is Concert band and some people from that class may end up being moved up to Symphonic in January if the Covid situation allows for more students in the band room. Also, please purchase Tradition of Excellence Technique and Musicianship by Bruce Pearson & Ryan Nowlin for your child's instrument. You can order online from JWPepper.com. This book currently runs $6.99. Symphonic students may acquire a binder used only for this class, or Mr. C can give you your own music folder for music.)

Congrats Concert Band 20-21! (For planning purposes, probably TB5 this year.)

Due to reconfiguring the band room for maximum health safety, this fall there can be no more than 44 in a class. Therefore, instead of the usual 65ish students for Symphonic, 44 were selected. The next class just under Symphonic is your class, Concert band, and some people from this class may end up being moved up to Symphonic in January if the Covid situation allows for more students in the band room. Also, the book needed for this class is Book 3 of Tradition of Excellence (green book) for your child's instrument. You can order it from Blues Angel Music, 457-7557, who will deliver it to the band room for first day of school. Concert Band students may acquire a binder used only for this class, or Mr. C can give you your own music folder for music.
